

2024 Board of Directors Nominee Bio

Name Janie Jones

Tell us a little bit about yourself and your philosophy.

Since 1994, I have worked as a realtor in Oklahoma City, and have developed a deep passion for the real estate industry.

Throughout my career, I have consistently been passionate about helping clients discover their dream homes, conducting business with integrity and honesty.

Please list your involvement in NAR, OAR, OKCMAR and MLSOK:

For OKCMAR I have served on the election silent auction committee, and in addition to my involvement in the Formal silent auction committee, and the golf tournament committee, I have also served on the legislative/issue committee. Furthermore, I have completed the LT7 Leadership Training under the guidance of Don Lord, and I have dedicated numerous years to serving on the realtor political action committee (RPAC). I have not had the opportunity to serve for either OAR or NAR, but I would feel privileged to do so in the future.

What sparked your interest in serving on the OKCMAR Board of Directors?

I have harbored a longstanding desire to be part of the board of Directors, with the aim of contributing positively to our industry. Real estate has always fascinated me, and I believe that by being a member of the board, I can make a significant impact.

Throughout my career in real estate, I have gained valuable experience and developed a deep understanding of the industry. From my early days as a real estate agent to my current, I have witnessed firsthand the challenges and opportunities that arise in this dynamic field. I have always been passionate about finding innovative solutions to problems and creating a harmonious environment for all involved.

By joining the board of Directors, I envision myself playing a crucial role in shaping the future of our industry. I am committed to fostering collaboration and facilitating constructive dialogue among real estate professionals. I believe that by working together, we can address key issues such as housing affordability, and ethical practices.

One of my primary goals as a board member would be to promote transparency and accountability within the real estate market. I firmly believe that these qualities are essential for building trust and confidence among both buyers and sellers. By advocating for stricter regulations and enforcement, we can ensure a level playing field where everyone operates. In today's fast-paced and interconnected world, it is crucial to establish a fair and balanced environment that fosters healthy competition and prevents any unfair advantages. Stricter regulations serve as a safeguard, ensuring that individuals and organizations abide by the same set of rules, thereby promoting transparency and trust among realtors and clients.
